WHAT IS KARAMEMPEL?

Karamempel opens its gates since 30 years during the summer holidays and the kids are still enthusiastic about their very own little play town in Esslingen. Every year, about 200 children become citizens of Karamempel. Life in Karamempel is similar to the one in the next-door city of Esslingen: As a citizen, you need a valid identity card to be able to get a job to earn your own money, called "Mempel". There are around 30 different and diverse businesses and jobs available: from painters to carpenters from mayor to reporter of the newspaper.

In Karamempel, the kids learn how "real life" works in a city, how companies and shops can handle orders, how to cook 200 meals a day, or how a newspaper editor fills the pages every day. The goal is the maximum of participation and decision-making freedom for the kids. So every citizen can decide for him– or herself every single day: Work or leisure? Wealth or poverty? Save or spend? Rummaging or cooperating?

This, the largest holiday program in Esslingen, is made possible by supporters, as well as an invincible team of around 40 voluntary youths, who each year not only guide the workplaces, but also build the infrastructure and design the workstations in advance.

WHAT ARE THE TASKS FOR THE VOLUNTEERS?

International volunteers will support other volunteers in organizing the workplaces with up to 10 kids. Work will consist in physical work and being in contact with the kids all the time. So above all, it will be pedagogical work, learning and experiencing how to work with kids by playing games or doing creative activities and how to become a good youth group leader.
