

Our city

Piotrków in films

Piotrków Trybunalski is loved by filmmakers. During the last several years the city hosted many great film crews which were working on the films that received general recognition and won awards all over the world. In Piotrków they shot popular Polish TV series ('Doktor Ewa' - 1972, 'Królowa Bona' - 1980, 'Jan Serce' - 1981, 'Komediantka' - 1986, 'Syzyfowe prace' - 2000, 'Przeprowadzki' - 2000 and 2001, 'Przedwiośnie' - 2001) as well as feature films ('Ewa chce spać' - 1957, 'Potop' - 1974, 'Vabank' - 1981, 'Nowy Jork czwarta rano' - 1988, 'Uprowadzenie Agaty' - 1993, 'Psy' - 1992, 'Pan Tadeusz' - 1999) and foreign films ('Shatov and the demons', based on 'The Possessed' by Dostoyevsky - 1988, 'Jacob the Liar' - 2000, 'Masz na imię Justine' - 2005, 'Hidden' - 2010). Moreover, the photos of the first Polish movie entirely made in 3D - 'Battle of Warsaw 1920' (2011) - were carried out in Piotrków.

Academic Piotrków

Piotrków Trybunalski is the second largest university centre in the Łódź Voivodeship. There are over 5 thousand students in the 5 local universities that specialise in such fields as foreign languages, economics and administration. In the second half of May students have their traditional holiday when they 'take over' the city and celebrate.
